Looking for a journey like no other? You've found it.

A local government success story. North Yorkshire takes care better. It's one of the most popular places to live in the country for its stunning coastline, a beautiful coastline and a relaxed lifestyle. The county is also home to one of the country's best local authorities.

A recent Local Government Association (LGA) poll ranked North Yorkshire County Council as one of the best quality local authorities in the country. The award was based on the quality of services provided to residents and the level of innovation and leadership in the county.

NORTH YORKSHIRE

Playing to your strengths

'The most important thing in my role is to create a stable platform for great people to come here and work effectively.'
Richard Hinton, chief executive of North Yorkshire County Council

North Yorkshire County Council has a reputation for providing high quality services. Its children's services are nationally recognised for their excellence and its mental health services are a leading national best practice.

This is what you'll find in the North Yorkshire Local Government Association (LGA) poll results published earlier this year. It shows that your council has been ranked as one of the best quality local authorities in the country.

The LGA poll ranked North Yorkshire County Council as one of the best quality local authorities in the country. The award was based on the quality of services provided to residents and the level of innovation and leadership in the county.

North Yorkshire boasts two national parks, the Yorkshire coast, it housed the hugely successful Tour de France in 2014, a host of the most sought after places to live in the UK and it's home to the largest private sector investment in the north of England. Austin Massey discovered how this innovative county council is building on these assets by remaining ahead of the game.

Assistant Director Care and Support (two posts) permanent or secondment, Salary circa £89k

These roles will lead our operational social care services. We have created these two posts over the past two years. Whilst one of the new posts will be focused primarily on our locally community teams and the other on Countywide services, because we are moving to a new structure, we will be able to assign some responsibilities (for example, including the Living Well service and social care mental health services) to post holders according to their backgrounds and strengths. Each post holder will be the lead Assistant Director for one of our four designated localities and, as such, you will lead our day to day relationships with NHS and other partners in those areas. Both Assistant Directors will be expected to play a visible and active role in integrating services on a basis which engages social care as an equal partner.

Both post holders will be expected to be strong managers of people, practice, performance and budgets. You will be expected to deliver our 2020 objectives, improve our service to 'go live' status, strengthen practice, and manage budget pressures systematically as we implement these changes.

Assistant Director Care and Support - post 1

You will establish and lead our new assessment, independence and planned care teams, located across the County. Your immediate priority will be to build on what we do well to create a modern adult social care service in each locality of the County. As the lead for practice and professional standards, you will motivate and develop our practitioners so that assessments, interventions and reviews are strengths-based. You will establish strong professional learning for staff, support managers to be more accountable for practice, performance and finance, and innovate in ways of delivering services, for example through new roles and therapeutic models such as family group conferencing. Ideally you will have a social work, occupational therapy or nursing qualification.

About the role

Assistant Director of Education & Skills, Children and Young people's services

Salary: circa £84k

Location: Northallerton, North Yorkshire

Are you passionate about driving education in a changing landscape? Are you an inspirational leader?

We are looking for someone with a proven track record in educational leadership and raising education and skills performance. A person able to demonstrate innovative and visible leadership, deliver strategic vision, with a sharp focus on strong performance management in an increasingly commercial world. You would be joining, geographically, the largest and amongst the best local authority and children's services in the country at a very challenging but exciting time.

North Yorkshire County Council is pursuing ambitious plans for transformation. We face challenges balancing the need to make large-scale efficiencies with our plans for maximisation, whilst working through what is an ever-changing educational landscape, and the delivery of excellent service outcomes. Great progress on that journey has been made; we have the ability to invest in the resources necessary to ensure that our priorities are met now and into the future.

This role is to lead our Education and Skills service which is evolving, to not only meet schools requirements but to exceed them and unite stakeholders in the aim of raising education and skill attainment for every child in this incredible county.

Find out more... join us confidentially at our Discovery Event by webinar at 8pm on Monday 10th October, where Peter Dwyer - Director for Children and Young People's Service will present information regarding the service and the role, joined by the current post holder. All enquiries, and need only email Penny Tappin to answer your questions. Register for the webinar here.

For an informal discussion about this opportunity please contact Peter Dwyer, Corporate Director - Children and Young People's Service on 01609 832234.

For a discussion regarding the recruitment process please contact Sarah Francis-Gaston, Principle Ad-Recruitment Solutions on 01603 793106.

It is important that your written application fully addresses the criteria as detailed in the person specification below. We will not accept CV submissions or applications from agencies.
